Back to the Future

KCA Begins a New Era and Returns Downtown After 60 Year Absence

Thanks to the vision of the KCA Board of Directors KCA made a dramatic change and relocated the association's offices to a new location at the corner of 8th and Jackson in downtown Topeka. The offices are centrally located near the legislature and the state agencies that are important to the work done by our members.

The new headquarters are not only strategically located near our most important partners, but also beautifully appointed and appropriate for scheduling meetings, lunches and receptions that we previously had to schedule at area hotels, restaurants or the country club. The completion of the conference and board room space was made possible because of the generous contributions by members that responded to the KCA Capital Campaign. We would like to thank the people who have chosen to help the KCA with its relocation.
